

WE NOMINATE

Mary Lilly Sage, whose capacity for helping others and rare understanding of community needs have come to mean so much to the Princeton Chapter of the American Red Cross and to the Area it serves so faithfully. This past Wednesday, after 11 years of devoted effort, Mrs. Sage was permitted to retire as the Chapter's Executive Secretary but at the same time it was announced that she will carry on as a Volunteer—assisting primarily with two of the projects closest to Princeton's heart, the all-important Blood Donor Program and the 6,000-member Junior Red Cross.

It was in September, 1942, with her husband's assignment to the staff of the Princeton Naval Training Schools, that Mrs. Sage first saw Princeton. She immediately reported for volunteer Red Cross duty, as she had done at the Bremerton, Wash., Navy Yard in 1939, later in New York City and again in Baltimore while Captain (then Commander) Sage was commanding a destroyer in the Battle for the North Atlantic. Months later she was named Princeton's Executive Secretary, a post described by one Red Cross official as the "hub of a constantly revolving wheel with a minimum of 19 committee-spokes."

This 48-year old native of Ellicott City, Md., a graduate of Johns Hopkins University and for nearly eight years a teacher in Baltimore schools, has been identified with each of the strides the Red Cross has taken in translating its vast humanitarian program into fact. For instance, in 12 years, the local Chapter's number of Home Service Calls has reached the 3,500-mark and Mrs. Sage has unobtrusively shouldered the loads of scores of the "desperately alone and afraid," many of whom have turned to the Red Cross, and to her, after all other hopes have gone glimmering.

V-J Day of course brought some relief to the Princeton Chapter; yet any slackening-off in one quarter was more than counter-balanced by added responsibilities in another. Under Mrs. Sage's direction the Junior Red Cross became part of everyday life in 29 public, parochial and private schools scattered through 11 communities. Three years ago the Red Cross and Princeton Hospital launched their unique "blood program" that in 1952 alone produced 2,219 free pints of blood. And, in the latter connection, Mrs. Sage has handled—along with myriad other details—all of the "after-5:00 p.m." calls since the program's inception.

For living the concept of true neighborliness; for understanding that the satisfaction of a job well done is infinitely more important than any tangible reward; for continuously working in Princeton's best interests; she is — at the risk of incurring her extreme displeasure—the Editors' nominee for

The Vanishing Indian. Next week is expected to bring announcement of the six Princetonians chosen to form the Joint Consolidation Committee. State law requires that both political parties shall be represented; one report was that the borough had selected its three representatives and the township two, but that action was at a standstill until the township could find a Democrat.

Princetonians Turn to Politics. Princetonians will be busy during the next three weeks at various levels of the 1953 primary political campaign. At the Princeton Inn Monday night, a member of the Class of 1941 who has made a major inroad into the New Jersey political picture in the past three years, will be a dinner speaker. He is Malcolm S. Forbes, State Senator from Somerset County (whose campaign manager, Assemblyman Anderson Fowler, is a member of Princeton's Class of 1935.)

Senator Forbes' classmate, George C. Young of Rosedale Road, will serve as toastmaster. Other members of the sponsoring committee are B. Franklin Bunn, Herbert C. Sturhahn, William D. Lippincott, Russell W. Skillman, Chester A. Page and Mrs. Oscar MacPherson.

Those who wish to hear Senator Forbes (oldest gubernatorial candidate from date of announcement of his intentions and youngest from point of view of age) speak on specific topics are invited to submit them in advance to Russell W. Skillman, 247 Nassau Street. Dinner reservations at $3 per plate may also be made through Mr. Skillman. Topics will be accepted at the Inn Monday night and those who cannot be present at the dinner are invited to hear Senator Forbes speak afterward.

Professor Joseph E. McLean of the University's Department of Politics has accepted appointment as campaign manager for Robert B. Meyner, Democratic candidate for Governor. To do so, he has resigned from the State Law Enforcement Council.

ago, was state chairman of the New Jersey Volunteers for Stevenson. At Chicago last summer, he was active in the move to draft Mr. Stevenson as his party's presidential candidate.

At the local level, too, the next three weeks will see intensive campaigning as Frederick J. Worthington makes his political debut by attempting to replace Bertrand L. Gulick, Jr., a veteran of more than a decade of service on the township committee and the county board of freeholders. Forty residents of the community have announced their sponsorship of Mr. Worthington's candidacy and have launched an advertising campaign on his behalf (see pages two, nine, thirteen and seventeen).

Pointing to the need for good government at the local as well as the national level, their statement comments: "In Princeton Township the choice of its government is virtually decided in the primaries. Your vote in the April 21st primary is your key to better government for your community through selection of the Republican nominee for Princeton Township Committeeman."

Mr. Worthington's nomination is urged as "the man who is better qualified to serve you. His record as a public spirited business leader provides that he can get the greatest return in terms of community service for your tax dollars," the statement asserts. "He can help plan for and administer the complex problems of this growing community." Included among his qualifications, his sponsors declare, are service as a director and officer of the YMCA, Community Chest, Council of Community Services and Rotary Club.

Backing his candidacy are: Philip E. Arseneault, Richard W. Baker, Jr., John F. Bliss, George R. Bowers, Raymond C. Brickley, Stewart H. Brown, James G. Campbell, Jr., Francis G. Clark, Mrs. George R. Cook, III, Thomas A. Craig, William R. Dorman, Mrs. Gordon Dyke, William H. Flagg, LeBaron R. Foster, Steven K. Fox, Jr., William F. Gale, Frank T. Gorman, Jr., Ralph M. Hagan, Herbert W. Hobbler, Theodore G. Kane, Ledlie I. Laughlin, Mrs. Otis W. Marshall, Jr.

Also, Ricardo A. Mestres, John A. Muller, John M. O'Donoghue, Pietro Pinelli, Alan W. Richards, John Richmond, Ralph P. Snyder, George C. Sziklai, Lester Tibbals, Jr., Esther Todd, Fred Van Deventer, Innocenzo Venta, Santo Vicino, Jr., Howard B. Waxwood, Jr., Arthur R. Wengel, Mrs. Richard B. Whitney, Hugh D. Wise, Jr. and Dr. Wilbur H. York.

Telephone Strike Continues. The state-wide telephone strike gave evidence this week of dragging into a lengthy dispute as union and company representatives were reportedly making small progress toward an agreement. While pensions and other issues have been discussed, the principal request by labor is for a uniform wage scale throughout the state and for wage increases higher than those offered by the company.

Although there were times when the manual service in the Princeton area was somewhat disrupted, it was frequently near normal. By mid-week, the supervisory staff manning the switchboard was accepting calls as they were placed, limiting them to the "urgent" variety only when the traffic load was more than they could handle.

Typical of the lighter incidents following disruption of service was a call made to The Wine and Game

Shop. Forgetting the strike until she had picked up the telephone, a woman told the operator, "This isn't really an emergency but I don't see how we can go through the whole weekend without beer in the house." The operator agreed, put the call through.

Probable future development: a rate increase to offset the wage boost the company will give when settlement is reached, plus those it has approved in the past; and the installation of dial phones in Princeton, thus taking the edge off future strikes as they already have 70% of the state. But before dial equipment is installed, a building in which to house it must be obtained.

Pay Up on Time. Motorists who are late in paying parking or traffic fines will draw an added penalty in the future, Magistrate Paul R. Chesbro announced this week. The new procedure will take effect April 15.

"Parking tickets must be paid on or before the due date given on the summons," Mr. Chesbro said. "Those who file and forget them and then pay a month later will have $3 added to whatever fine they owe."

Tickets for "moving violations"—that is, passing a red traffic signal, a "stop" sign, speeding, and so forth, must also be paid on time. Those who go to the traffic violations window after the day listed on the summons will henceforth be required to appear in court.

New Principal Sought. The Borough Board of Education will meet early this month to study the problem of selecting a successor for Principal Harold A. Odell, who resigned last week to accept a similar post at Montclair High School after having been here for seven years.

Credited by B. Woodhull Davis, supervising principal of schools, with "guiding the development of many new practices which have made our high school the outstanding institution it is today," Mr. Odell is understood to have received the Montclair appointment after selection from among a field of 70 applicants. He is president-elect of the New Jersey School Principals Association.

Mr. Davis was unable to forecast the length of time to be spent in selecting a new principal for the high school. Present members of the faculty, as well as those on the faculty and administration of other schools, will be considered, he said.

Easter Comes to Princeton. The approach of Easter, traditional season of hope and renewed faith in the future, finds Princetonians ready for an early spring at home and yearning for peace in Korea. Renewed negotiations this week for an honorable armistice and an end to the shooting war gave the troubled world a brighter horizon than it had seen in nearly three long years.

Easter pageants, egg hunts and services in all churches will mark the ever-welcome weekend. The first worshippers to greet the dawn on Sunday will be the gathering on the Springdale golf course near the Cleveland Memorial Tower, where the YMCA and young people from churches of Princeton and nearby communities hold a service each year.

The service at 6 o'clock will be preceded by a "morning watch" at 5:30 a. m. The speaker will be Dr. Thomas H. Stone, executive vice-president of Westminster Choir College, while a youth choir under the direction of Theodore White will sing. In the event of rain, the service will be held at the First Presbyterian Church, with a breakfast to follow at the Methodist Church.

Goal in Sight. The Nephosis Foundation fund is $39 short of its $500 goal, although some $250 was raised last week during the one-day collection campaign on Nassau Street. Checks payable to the Foundation may be sent to Mrs. David Saunders, Cold Soil Road, R. D. 2.

Those assisting with the campaign were: Mrs. W. F. Alston, Mrs. Gerald Breese, Mrs. George —Continued on Page 5

tion to the bank's staff was made by its president, George R. Cook, 3d.

Mr. Cresson has also been associated with the Donner Corporation of Philadelphia and during the war was with E. I. duPont and the Carnegie Institution while engaged in research work. A graduate of the University of Pennsylvania with the class of 1924, he is living at the Nassau Club and will move to Princeton with his wife and two children this summer.

Festival Nears. Food and articles from the Near East will be featured at the YWCA's International Festival in the high school auditorium next Saturday, April 11. Mrs. Philip K. Hitti is in charge of this portion of the arrangements.

Miss Wadeha Atiyeh, professional dramatist and singer, will come to Princeton to take a major part in the festival. Through songs, stories and other use of pantomime, she describes the colorful Orient, depicting its people and telling of their life from ancient Bagdad to modern Cairo.

Scholarships Open. Saturday, April 25, has been set as the date for competitive examinations to be given at The Hun School for the John G. Hun and John L. Kuschke Memorial Scholarships. All boys living in Mercer County who will enter any grade between nine and 12 next fall may compete for the awards.

The scholarships, which cover full tuition for day students, are held throughout the student's career at Hun, provided he maintains a satisfactory financial record. Recipients are selected on a basis of financial need, character, academic ability, promise and participation in outside activities.

Partial scholarships given by Ifun alumni are also awarded on a basis of the same examinations. Further details may be obtained from the headmaster, Dr. Paul R. Chesebro; Ellis G. Willard, Director of Admissions, or from the headmaster of the school in which the applicant is currently enrolled.

Food For Thought. They had known each other for years, but their first formal date together was an occasion of considerable enjoyment. Each had dressed specially for the event and was on his best behavior.

When they walked into Renwick's for lunch, he took her coat and hung it carefully with his. The waitress seated them, brought water, napkins and gave each a large menu.

All of sudden it seemed very much of an adult world. The seven-year old girl turned to her eight-year old escort and asked, "Oh, my, Charlie! Can you read?"

Safety Hints. Parents of bicycling children are asked to cooperate with the new Safety Committee by discussing various precautions with them. Mrs. Edward H. Roberts is chairman of the committee, which has been organized by the Council of Community Service.

Parents should make sure that the bicycle fits the rider, to eliminate difficulty in handling it, and that the child keeps it in good mechanical condition. Other suggestions: don't stunt or race in traffic; obey all traffic signals and signals before making turns; don't hitch on to moving vehicles; don't carry passengers; use a basket for books or parcels, freeing both hands for steering; use a bell or horn at all times and a headlight and rear reflector for night riding.

Holy Name Plans. The April meeting of the Holy Name Society of St. Paul's Parish will be held Wednesday night in the clubrooms, opening with a short business meeting. A talk illustrated with motion pictures will be given on the retreat movement by Father Walsh of St. Alfonso Retreat House, West End, N. J. All men of the parish are invited to attend; Duncan Doyle is in charge of refreshments.

Increased membership is reported for the Junior Holy Name Society, formed earlier this year. Transportation is needed to enable more members to partake in the sports program and any man in the parish who has a car and can assist in this respect is asked to notify Patrick Coughlan.

Community Planning. Under the editorial direction of the university's Bureau of Urban Research, the Princeton University Press has published "An Approach to Urban Planning," dealing with long-range problems and principles of municipal planning. The book should prove to be a refocusing point for Princetonians immersed in the consolidation issue.

Edited by Dr. Gerald Breese, director of the Bureau of Urban Research, and Miss Dorothy E. White-man, the bureau's executive secretary, the book includes five sections on different aspects of the field by well-known planning authorities, three of them Princeton residents.

Among the articles are "Land Use and Zoning" by Norman Williams, Jr., and "Metropolitan Transportation" by C. McKim Norton, who is a member of the borough Zoning Board.

Another Princeton author, Charles K. Agle, takes direct aim at the local problem in his "Housing and Urban Redevelopment." He asserts, "The people of Princeton cannot laugh off the Studebaker plant three miles south of New Brunswick. Or the new steel mill in Morrisville, or the smells of an industry that have spoiled the skinny ride to Princeton Junction. There is a steamroller headed this way from both directions."

Mr. Agle adds a further warning, "In some cases, a borough and township cannot get together on so much as an elementary school program. Perhaps neither would speak to its county officials even if they were interested in planning. And a handful of die-hard property owners can effectively block any internal highway improvement."

"And nobody thinks local youngsters need a place to play. And an outlying shopping center, which will thrive on urban residents to the detriment of borough merchant taxpayers, will be on a rural tax roll. The seeds of chaos are deeply planted."

Miscellany. Sons have been born to Mr. and Mrs. Roland W. Smith, 46 South Stanworth; Mr. and Mrs.

William Flemer, Carnegie Lake Road; Mr. and Mrs. Philetus H. Holt, 3d, 172 Nassau Street; daughters to Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Krisslov, 31 Bank Street, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Tillett, 120 Prospect Street; and Mr. and Mrs. John L. Madden, Fisher Place, Penns Neck.

William Mains, State Road, was fined $20 by Magistrate Paul R. Chesebro Tuesday for careless driving. Fined $7 each for speeding were William H. Sayen, 4th, R.D. 2; Frank S. Wendt, 21 Morven Place; Miss Maria Cybis, Greenhouse Drive; Mrs. Mary G. Nelson, Storkton Road; Irving Howe, Grover Avenue; and 21 other drivers from outside the Princeton area.

A flash fire last Friday burned out one room of the home of the Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Robert N. Smyth at 321 Nassau Street. The blaze is reported to have started when a paint remover came in contact with an open light switch, causing a spark that ignited the fumes from the paint and turpentine standing in the room. The early-morning alarm on Sunday (from Prospect and Washington) was false.

The Princeton Democratic Club will meet Wednesday night at 8:30 at the Chestnut Street firehouse to elect officers and make plans for the next 12 months. Philip Carroll, club president, in extending an invitation to all Democrats and Independents to attend, called for them to "unite and participate in a crusade for clean state government."

The Right Rev. Charles F. Boynton, Suffragan Bishop of the Diocese of New York, will speak at the dinner meeting of the Women's Auxiliary of Trinity Church next Friday, April 10, at 7 o'clock at the Parish House. His subject will be "The Missionary Opportunity of the Episcopal Church in Principle and Practice." The meeting is open to men as well as women, with reservations to be made through the parish secretary (tel. 2277).

The Lutheran Church of the Messiah will now hold two services each Sunday morning, one at 8:30 and the other at 11. The pastor, the Rev. Milton J. Nauss, hopes to increase the opportunity to the congregation and the people of the community to attend church and to decrease the congestion at the 11 o'clock service.

Holy Communion will continue to be celebrated at the 11 o'clock service on the first Sunday of each month, exclusive of Easter. At the 8:30 service, the Sacrament will be celebrated on the third Sunday of each month.

R. Birchall Kimble, chairman of the Sight Conservation Committee of the Princeton Lions Club, has issued a statement thanking all those who contributed to the club's "Be Thankful You Can See" fund-raising program.

Seasoned Lumber Holds A House Together

A home built with seasoned lumber will stay strong and sturdy for several generations . . . with very little upkeep. On the other hand, green lumber will shrink, causing cracked plaster . . . sagging floors . . . warped framing.

There are no "bargains" in lumber. Whether building a new house or simply repairing your back porch floor, use seasoned lumber. You'll save in the long run.

Come over to the Grover Lumber Co. on Alexander Street. Let us show you the difference between our seasoned lumber and green lumber. We'll recommend the right grade of lumber for your purpose.

IT'S NEW TO US

is its quick-clean oven. This means that you can take out all the insides of the oven and clean them. Further, there's a one-piece, round-corner construction that eliminates difficult corners.

Keep it Casual. At Harris' Department Store, 32 Witherspoon, you'll find a complete casual wardrobe—shirts and blouses, skirts, dresses—even a tailored raincoat.

We could have used a raincoat the day we saw this one. It looks like denim (tearcoal or blue) and it has a belt you can use or put away. The collar stands up when it's buttoned against the storm, but if you wear the coat on a dry day, the collar will open and lie flat. A jockey-type hat goes under your umbrella. Outfit (exclusive of umbrella) is $19.95.

Ship 'n' Shore has turned out some sleeveless beauties for summer. One has a tucked vest, tucking in contrasting thread (grey on white, white on navy, etc.). Another is without tucks; it relies on waffle pique for interest. The handkerchief of the lot is one with a convertible collar. It's made of Wamsutter Pima broadcloth, and feels like silk—costs $3.50, against the $2.98 for the others.

Rayon shantung has been used in a blouse that comes in beige, powder blue, or black. And a beige cotton has black-bound green polka dots and black piping at collar and neck.

It never occurred to us that this could be the case, but it seems there is a Mr. Shore. He has taken himself away from Ship 'n' and begun his own line called (appropriately enough) "Shore." These blouses look very much like the others, except for a vertical tuck down the front closing, and a different way of finishing the bottom of the blouse. Prices on the Shore blouses are $2.95.

You'll want, come hot weather, a denim set consisting of shirt, halter, shorts in navy, faded, or charcoal. Skirts only $3.95, halter $1.95. A similar line in chambray, but you can have brown, too.

De-Luxe Plastic, Bontonware, at Fari's Hardware, 138 Nassau, will resist the most reckless dishwasher. It looks both handsome and indestructible—what more could a woman want! Open stock, with a large assortment of sizes in plates, platters, and so on. Colors are maroon, grey, powder blue, yellow, dark green, light green.

A magic pitcher, of plastic, is also in can-openers—talk about versatility. It's made to open small cans of evaporated milk. You take off the pitcher's bottom, put the can in, and press it against two sharp points. Then you put the bottom on, and pour. But first—59c, please.

Odor-Ban is an electric deodorizer to plug into any light socket. A tiny thing in pine bouquet, it costs $1.69. "Not for internal use," it says on the box. Just keep it in the plug, and its tablets away from the young.

When is a Wall? A "room-divider" might ordinarily be defined as a wall. But at Boelterstone's, 10 Chambers Street, a room-divider is a wood-slat pull curtain on a track. It will conceal a kitchen, shut off a closet, or separate a dinette. You can have Chinese red, chartreuse, dark green or lighter shades. For a space three feet wide and six feet long, the price is about $28.

Provincial prints by the swatch-laid at this shop. Colonial figures on white; horses, men, and women in a design that just misses being Pennsylvania Dutch. Rivermen, old stage coaches and trains decorate another fabric. Stop by 10 Chambers Street and browse. Maybe you will come away with the fisherman-hunter print for somebody's den.

YOU CAN SEND TOWN TOPICS anywhere in the U. S. for $1.50 a year. Keep your family and friends informed of Princeton events by giving them a copy 32 weeks in the year. Call 4279

WORTHINGTON FOR TOWNSHIP COMMITTEE

The New Jersey Poll
CLOSE RACE IS EXPECTED
FOR N.J. GOVERNOR; OTHER
RESULTS OF RECENT POLLS

First indication of the relative strength of the two major political parties in this year's New Jersey gubernatorial election is revealed in a "trial heat" survey completed by New Jersey Poll staff reporters among the state's voters.

On February 19, the New Jersey Poll reported that a majority of the New Jersey voters expect a GOP victory in November's gubernatorial election. (Of the state's voters 58 1/2% expect a GOP victory; 29% believe the Democrats will win; 13% had no opinion as to the winner.)

Today's survey findings indicate how wide is the spread between the party the voters expect to win and the party they would like to see win.

When New Jersey Poll staff reporters asked an accurate cross-section of the state's voters:

"If the elections for governor were being held today, which party would you like to see win in this state—the Republican or the Democratic?"

The vote was:
*Republicans 41 1/2%
*Democrats 41.2

Depends on candidates and campaign waged 17.6

*Princeton Research Service studies over the years show that people generally vote for the party they say they would like to see win.

State's Problems Listed. What do rank and file voters in the state regard as the most important issues that should be discussed by New Jersey's gubernatorial candidates.

To determine the answer to this all-important question, the New Jersey Poll sent its reporters up and down and across the state to ask an accurate cross-section of the state's voters the following question:

"What do you personally regard as the most important issue or problem that should be discussed in the election campaign this year?"

Results of the survey show that four problems are uppermost in the minds of New Jersey voters at the present time:

State aid to education; gambling and law enforcement; highways and roads; and taxes.

Job Outlook Good. Confidence in New Jersey's long and short run business and job prospects is high. This public confidence should be a good thing for New Jersey business.

When New Jersey Poll staff reporters during the past two weeks asked a cross-section of the New Jersey public:

"How do you feel about business conditions in this state for the next few years? Do you think there'll be more business and more jobs than during the past year or two, or less business and fewer jobs?"

The results were:
More, or the same amount of, business and jobs 70%

More business and jobs 36%

About the same amount 34%

Less business and fewer jobs 16

No opinion 14

The Central Jersey Wellesley Club has set Saturday, May 9, as the date for its annual hazaar. Mrs. Robert N. Pease and Miss Helen M. Woodruff are co-chairmen of the event, which last year netted $700 for the May Margaret Fine Scholarship Fund at Wellesely College.

Paintings, prints and poems by Mariquita Villard go on display this Friday at Group Arts, 14 Spring Street, until April 23. She will be hostess at a reception and discussion Friday night at 8. Her work, symbolic in character, has been on display at a number of points throughout the East.

COMING TO McCARTER

Charles Laughton

News of the Theatres

McCARTER THEATRE
The Vassar Club of Princeton has announced that it will sponsor "An Evening with Charles Laughton" on Saturday, April 18, for the benefit of the club's scholarship fund for girls from the Princeton area. Tickets for the readings by the noted actor are on sale at the University Store and at Hinkson's. Mrs. Louis G. Bissell, Jr. heads the committee in charge of Mr. Laughton's appearance. Mrs. Richard H. Morgan, Mrs. Kenneth Kassler and Mrs. Datus Smith, Jr. are assisting her. Mrs. John McAndrew is chairman of the scholarship committee, which has selected as its two most recent award winners the Misses Doris Brown and Dorothy Duckworth of Princeton.

School Plays. "Treasure Island," "Patience" and the first performance by any high school in the country of the noted musical "Carousel" are on the school theatrical schedules for the coming month. Princeton Country Day School will open with "Treasure Island" on April 10-11, under the direction of Herbert McAneny. "Patience," the Gilbert and Sullivan operetta, will be given by Miss Fine's School on April 15 and 16. The music is under the charge of Miss Frances Kleeman and Mrs. Herbert McAneny will direct. Princeton High will present the Rodgers and Hammerstein "Carousel" on April 30-May 1-2 under the direction of Thomas Hilbish.
THE PLAYHOUSE
Tonight We Sing (Thurs.-Sat.) is the film biography of S. Hurok, the impresario, making it a natural spring board for a display of excellence in the entertainment arts. David Wayne plays Hurok, Ezio Pinza plays the singer Chaliapin, Tamara Toumanova plays the ballerina Pavlova, and Jan Peerce, Roberta Peters and Isaac Stern are among others who contribute either off-screen or in person. Ball Season to Open. After five hours of a marathon practice game, Eddie Donovan wasn't sure whether his pitchers were better than he thought or whether his hitters were just making them look good. In the long session on University Field, base hits were scarcer than moths in a camphor factory. One double and a few grass-cutters that skidded through the soft infield for singles were all the safe blows the large assortment of players could muster.

It will not be until the middle of the coming week at the earliest before Princeton has some indication of whether its pitching staff has any strength this season. Weather permitting, seven games are to be played in the eight-day period starting this Saturday. By the time half of them are over, an opportunity to show a flash of ability will have been given all of the hurlers on the current squad.

Best indication of pitching strength to date is the lack of wildness on the part of the various twirlers. If base hits were scarce, so were walks; if the mound department can keep that up, half the battle will be won.

Emerson Dickman, former Red Sox hurler who coached here for three seasons before returning to a full-time job in the business world, has been lending Donovan a hand with the pitchers. If he can teach one or more of them control, it will be a major contribution, for there is no speed comparable to the type that made Harry Brightman and Dave Sisler so capable.

Dick Emery, top man on the good (9-2) freshman team of last season, is the principal hope and will be the choice to start this Saturday against Temple. Behind him come Ken Gentsch, a junior; Joe Castle, Al Bryant, Carl Pope (Princeton High alumnus) and Tom Murphy. Bob Unger is scholastically ineligible.

Ed Stimpson, a veteran as a junior, is on hand to give vitally needed experience in the catching department. Blair Torrey, one of the few three-sport athletes in college today, was delayed in plans to report for practice but will be on the squad this spring.

Joe Golden's substitute at first will be Jimmy Griffin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald W. Griffin of 44 Washington Road. Hank Thomay, an able sophomore, has the second base assignment clinched, with Dick Savage looking well at short. Savage was named the team's most improved player last spring after breaking in as a sophomore and turning in consistently dependable defensive work.

Al Fyles has been holding down third base and may keep the job if he can come up with a base hit now and then. He and Herky Parke are about on a par as fielders, but Parke consistently had trouble at the plate last season.

HUNTING PITCHERS

Eddie Donovan

The outfield will be strengthened if Bill Gall's knee improves. He was hitting last week but did not get into the game defensively. His experience and ability at the plate (only player to finish over .300 in 1952) will earn him the left-field berth the moment he can run without a limp.

Dan Taylor, reserve pitcher on the team last spring, is currently holding down that spot on the varsity. Pete Van Gyteneek is in center and John Easton in right. These two in particular are counted on for extra-base blows; Joe Golden and Ed Stimpson may also weigh in with base hits to strengthen the Tigers' attack.

The home opener is set for Monday afternoon at 2:30 against Manhattan. Tuesday will take the team to Bethlehem to play Lehigh and Wednesday the road trip will be to face Penn at Philadelphia. This is a non-league game, with the Quakers coming here for the circuit clash on May 13.

Following the two games away from home, it will be C.C.N.Y. on Thursday, N.Y.U. on Friday and —Continued on Page 17

EXCHANGE STUDENTS AND THEIR PRINCIPAL AT PRINCETON HIGH SCHOOL

rather poor screenplay, the music, performances and Technicolor make a quite distinctive film.

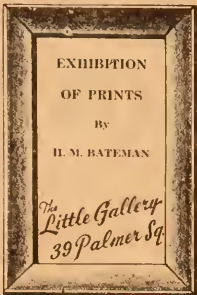

Call Me Madam (Sun.-Wed.) is the Broadway two-year smash transplanted to the screen with everything the stage musical had and more. Irving Berlin's songs, the hook and lyrics by Lindsay and Crouse, the talent, Technicolor and everything else add up to make ENTERTAINMENT out of the big song-dance-and-satire show.

All-over-the-place Ethel Merman sings, hollers and clowns her way through the role of Madam Ambassador from the U. S. to the mythical court of Lichtenburg, with sparkling assistance from Donald O'Connor, Vera-Ellen and George Sanders, among others. (Note the extra playing day.)

The Naked Spur (Thurs.-Sat.) features James Stewart in an absorbing, penetrating western drama, billed with action. Stewart, along with Ralph Meeker and Miland Mitchell are attempting to take outlaw Robert Ryan into custody to gain a $5,000 reward. Janet Leigh is an innocent party and Ryan succeeds in sowing discord among his captors during their trek to civilization. Excellent Technicolor photography of the Colorado Rockies.

THE GARDEN

Ride the Man Down (Fri.-Sat.). Surprise, Surprise. This one's about a fight for a cattle empire at the turn of the century. Brian Donlevy, the cud, wants the ranch lands belonging to poet Bill Ella Raines (whose pioneer pa is dead), but Rod Cameron is out to stop him. Technicolor.

All-Ashore (Mon.-Tues.) is a formula service comedy about three sailors on leave. Mickey Rooney is the fall guy for his two buddies, Dick Haymes and Ray MacDonald. The situation obviously calls for lots of pretty young ladies, songs by Haymes, and Technicolor.

Rogues' March (Wed.-Thurs.) is an adventure drama, with a humorous strain, about a British Army captain who is unfairly dismissed. To clear himself involves many adventures, including brisk battle scenes in India. Peter Lawford, Janice Rule and Richard Greene are the principals.

Eight Iron Men (Fri.-Sat.), done by Stanley Kramer, is a grim, realistic and powerful story of eight G.I.'s holding a bombed-out town. Tension and combat scenes are relieved by comedy touches in the fine script, and the non-star cast does well under good direction.

SPORTS IN PRINCETON

Seton Hall Saturday. By that time, the pitching strength will be pretty well sorted out.

The league schedule will work a hardship on the inexperienced Tiger squad, since the first two games are away from home against tough opponents and the first home contest comes three days later. It will be Navy at Annapolis on April 15, Cornell at Ithaca on the 18th and Columbia here on the 21st.

Stewart Wins Wolman Trophy. Bob Stewart, forward on the Princeton High School basketball team, won the Wolman Memorial Trophy for outstanding play and sportsmanship. The award was given by Mr. and Mrs. Nat Wolman in honor of their son who was a P.H.S. and University of Pennsylvania athlete before losing his life in the Navy during World War II.

Stewart, a senior, was a high-scoring member of the Blue and White quintet during the past season. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Stewart of 31 William Street.

Streak In Danger. Over a period of the past five years, Princeton High School's track team has won 34 dual meets. No school in the state has taken the Little Tigers' measure, and they have met the best in Group Three. Mercer County, Central Jersey and State championships have come their way, together with a host of individual titles.

It's been a great credit to Coach Irwin Weiss and his assistants, Winfield Niles and Gerald Croninger, the latter the freshman coach. Some of the times and distances have been as good as those you'll find in college meets.

Now, however, the long string is in danger, for graduation has dealt a terrific blow to the strength of the 1953 squad. Twenty-four letters were awarded at the end of last year's successful season but only eight lettermen are back. Grooming replacements will be a tremendous task.

Indicative of the job to be done is the fact that two of last year's stars, co-captains Buster Thomas and Tom Perks, between them set six of the school's 13 all-time records. Others who will be missed are Harry Kahny, Charlie Streater, Walter Wells, Skip Page, Jack Shepard, Chase Rosner, Lucien Frohling, Lanny Dennison and Skip Kerr.

Principal point-getters this season should be Jim Varner in the hurdles and broad jump; Larry Fitzgerald in the weights and high jump; Bob Taylor and Al Terry in the sprints; Carl Brown and Allen Graham in the hurdles.

Strength will also come from Bryce Rittenhouse, Bill Mather, Barry Cramp and Doug Wengel in the middle and distance runs; Bunky Allen and Al Bowers in the pole vault; Rover Rosner, John Delneso, Ronald Taylor, Stan Clark and John Kay in the weights.

The schedule will open with the Seton Hall Relays on April 17, with Hamilton High here in the first dual meet on April 22. Following the annual Penn Relays, Trenton High will be here on April 28.

May opponents include Hightstown, Long Branch, Pennington Prep, Somerville and Trenton Catholic. If the Blue and White takes them all, the string will mount to 41, but it's a big order.

Hun Baseball Schedule. A trip to George School next Wednesday will open a 13-game baseball schedule for the Hun School. Princeton High will be played on a home-and-home basis, as will Trenton High and the George School.

The 1953 schedule:
 April 8, George School, away; 15, B.M.L.; 17, Princeton High; 21, Trenton High; 22, Newark Academy, away; 28, Ewing Township High; 29, Admiral Farragut.

May 1, George School; 9, Rutgers Prep; 12, Princeton High, away; 15, Bryn Athyn; 18, Trenton High, away; 20, Peddie.

EASTER HAM?

We have three we recommend:

- I. The smoked and cooked, ready to eat. This is cooked slowly for thirty hours and has a light cure. We will decorate if you wish, $1 additional, with brown sugar, cloves and slice of pineapple.
- II. Our regular smoked ham, the same as above, but you cook it.
- III. Some people like our old fashioned country smoked ham (salty but durable).
